MILWAUKEE COUNTY CHAIRWOMAN APPOINTED TO NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION POST

National Association of Counties (NACO) taps Chairwoman Dimitrijevic as Vice Chair of Transportation Steering Committee

Milwaukee – Milwaukee County Chairwoman Marina Dimitrijevic announced today her appointment as Vice Chair of the Transportation Steering Committee of the National Association of Counties (NACO).

NACO, the only organization representing the nation's 3,068 counties, parishes and boroughs, develops and shapes the association's legislative priorities for presentation to the legislative and executive branches of the federal government.

"When this position became available, I immediately thought to recommend Chairwoman Dimitrijevic, given her long-standing advocacy of transportation and transportation-related issues," said Wisconsin Counties Association (WCA) Executive Director Mark O'Connell.

The one-year appointment from NACO President Chris Rodgers is effective immediately.

"I'm thrilled to be able to represent Wisconsin's transportation needs at the national level through this leadership post," said Chairwoman Dimitrijevic. "Having a role in this national committee will allow me to focus even greater attention on Milwaukee County's transit needs at the federal level."

Placing a high value on intergovernmental relations, Chairwoman Dimitrijevic works to advance Milwaukee County's legislative priorities at the state and national levels through several leadership roles within WCA and NACO.

"As we have shown at the Board level, a unified voice is a stronger voice when it comes to advancing good public policy," said Chairwoman Dimitrijevic.
